Record number of exhibitors, artists, and art posted for sale

Confirmed art sales of nearly $1,200,000

12th CAL dates set for November 15-16, 2025

Orlando, FL - June 9, 2025 - ComicArtFans.com (CAF), the global hub for everything related to collecting comic book and other narrative or storytelling art, announced today the successful production of its 11th Comic Art LIVE (CAL) virtual art convention on May 17 to 18, as well as dates for the 12th CAL and 13th CAL, which will be held November 15-16, 2025 and May 16-17, 2026, respectively.

CAL is a twice annual (May/November) virtual art convention held on the CAF website that invites comic art collectors and fans from anywhere in the world to attend a free two-day virtual comic art convention where artworks are presented for sale directly from artists, collectors, art dealers, artist representatives, and auction houses. CAL also features our hugely popular Mystery Sketch Event, a unique and fun opportunity to get convention sketches and sketch cards with artists randomly assigned from a list of emerging and established talent, as well as two days of incredible live panels and art sale shows on our CAF+ YouTube channel where you can ask questions to panelists, interact with the collecting community, and purchase art in the live chat.

"Our 11th Comic Art LIVE was a turning point where our team was able to bring together advanced functionality with both our app and browser-based site along with a huge leap in participation from the indie comics, sketch card, and artist communities along with consistent and creative promotion to produce not only our best CAL ever but a roadmap for how we'll be expanding the show with the goal for CAL to be fun and beneficial to artists and collectors while providing the lowest possible barrier for us to reach and help create new comic and narrative art collectors," said Kasra Ghanbari, CEO of CAF.

Professional working artists, artists representatives, and indie artists are all invited to set up a free exhibitor booth at CAL. Art collectors with a CAF Premium subscription ($75/year) receive a large number of benefits, including being able to set up an exhibitor booth twice a year at CAL along with access to the CAL convention halls two hours before it opens to the public.

"If you're a comic book, illustration, or card artist or artist rep, we're ready to help you add these two zero-cost art conventions to your schedule," said Tatiana Dykes, Director of Events at CAF. "And if you like going to comic and pop culture conventions and love seeing the art, then our CAL shows were made for you, and you can attend these free conventions from the comfort of your home and on your phone."
